

Print - Close Window

Date: Thu, 29 May 2008 12:55:43 -0700 (PDT)
From: "DON DAVIDSON" <don@publishamerica.com>
Subject: Response to PublishAmerica Support Team email of 5-29-08
To: "PublishAmerica Author Support Team" <support@publishamerica.com>
CC: "Denise @ PublishAmerica" <denise@publishamerica.com>, "Darcy @ PublishAmerica" <darcy@publishamerica.com>

To: PublishAmerica Support Team:

Your lengthy and unsigned email of May 29, 2008 was very amusing. If you want an apology from me, I suggest you begin doing what the contract implies that you would do—promote and market my book to the public, rather than to me. You might also want to lower the retail price to a reasonable level so that people might actually buy it.

I note that you have still not addressed or acknowledged my request that you stop sending me email solicitations. Very well, a spam filter can take care of that.

You also continue to ignore my inquiries about your pricing policies and marketing strategies. I think we both know why.

May God bless,
Don Davidson

Author of The Eternal Perspective: Essays on the Truth of Christianity by a Former Skeptic