Subject: Don Davidson: pricing and publlicity

Dear Don Davidson:

Your letter did not reach the intended recipients, and it will not be directed elsewhere within the company. Issues such as yours are handled by our author support team, and are not directed elsewhere within the company. Please use support@publishamerica.com as your sole point of contact, and do not cc others within the company.

The price of a book is based on many different factors, including the number of pages, content, and what the market will bear for the work. Because this is not decided on until the very last stages of the production process, it would be impossible to quote a price for this work at this time. To get a better idea of how our book prices run, you can visit www.publishamerica.com to view our online catalog.

PublishAmerica provides complimentary review copies to legitimate media reviewers who submit their request in writing. As per contract, this is done at our discretion. Please have any potential reviewer e-mail support@publishamerica.com or fax 301-631-9073 with his or her request. If you have any e-mail correspondence with a reviewer, you may also forward that to the above e-mail address.

PublishAmerica has not granted permission to use excerpts from your book to any one. This request usually comes from the author and is determined on a case-by-case basis.

Press releases would have been sent only to addresses to which you yourself provided to our Public Relations Department for the purposes of announcing and promoting your book.

>>On page 5 of our contract, it states that I will actively participate in promoting sales of my book by making myself available to "media interviews, book readings and/or signings, and other public sales promotion appearances."<< As this states, "I" meaning you will actively participate in this process. PublishAmerica does not set up interviews, readings and/or signings etc.

I have forwarded your last question to the proper department for a response.

Thank you
 Denise
