Frequently Asked Royalty Statement Questions:

What Is Retail Discount: this is the discount obtained by vendors or customers who purchased your book directly from PublishAmerica or from wholesalers.

What Is Sales Price: this is the net amount that PublishAmerica received for your book; your royalty is based on this amount, as per Par. 3 of your contract.

Why Are There Different Sales Prices: virtually all books are sold at various discounts off the retail price; the discount determines the sales price. If your book has been sold through U.K. wholesalers who serve Britain and the European continent, you may occasionally see unusual discounts, caused by shifting exchange rates between the US dollar and the UK sterling.

What Is "Returned Books": PublishAmerica allows bookstores to return unsold copies for reimbursement. Royalties for those books have been paid to you in this or a previous statement. Because the returned books were in fact not sold after all, we have refunded all monies received, and those un-earned royalty amounts are now subtracted from your gross total. Bookstores have up to 18 months to return unsold books.

What Happened To Books Sold Last Month: all books bought directly from PublishAmerica are included in this statement; books sold through vendors, incl. Amazon, during the past three months may not yet be included as vendors have up to 90 days or longer to pay, and payment may not yet have been received. Such sales will be included in your next royalty statement.

What Are My Royalty Cut-off Dates: January 31 and July 31; we forward our semi-annual statements at the end of February and August.

Where Are The Royalties On Copies Of My Own Book That I Bought: authors are not paid royalties on books that they purchase themselves, per your contract, unless we ran a special promotion that indicated otherwise.

Who Do I Contact For Questions About My Statement: email your query to royalties@publishamerica.com; we will make every attempt to fully answer your question within seven business days.

When Does My Royalty Check Expire: ninety days after we have issued it. After that date, the royalty account is closed, and the check cannot be cashed at that time. We do not replace un-cashed checks.
