Dear PublishAmerica author,

Numbers: This year a record more than 5,000 new authors have been joining your ranks. Each day, more than one hundred new authors are requesting to become your peers. PublishAmerica will soon cross the mark of having three million books in print. Last week, bookstores ordered a PublishAmerica book 800 times each day! We sell a book every fifteen seconds.

Ninth: As PublishAmerica enters its ninth year of spectacular growth, we pledge to remain the number one traditional book publisher that offers tens of thousands of authors an opportunity to shine, by making their work available for audiences from coast to coast, at no cost to the author. PublishAmerica is in the business of realizing a writer's dream at no charge. At no one else's risk but its own, PublishAmerica has to date invested more than fifteen million dollars in producing and marketing its library of literary works, written by our legion of talented authors such as yourself.

Names: PublishAmerica welcomes Barbara Ann Alston who was a lead singer of the 1960s pop group The Crystals (with hits such as: Then He Kissed Me, He's a Rebel, Da Doo Ron Ron, There's No Other). Also welcome to Dave Ogilvie, author of The Golfer's Dream. He is a member of the PGA Hall of Fame class of 2005 and the 1986 PGA Golf Professional of the Year. Other new PublishAmerica celebrities include Sid Feders who won numerous Emmy's with NBC, including the Today Show, and playwright and Hollywood producer Irving Elman, whose credits include Alfred Hitchcock Presents and The High Chaparral.
